IFAP and WorkCover WA Join Forces

WorkCover WA has entered into a co-operative partnership with IFAP in a move that will expand IFAP's range of services to include Workers Compensation information sessions and training courses.

The partnership has been established to meet the needs of both organisations. For WorkCover WA this is to continue providing information to injured workers and their employers throughout Western Australia and for IFAP to promote safety, risk management and injury management to WA employers.

WorkCover WA have been providing free information seminars for injured workers. These seminars provide valuable information to assist injured workers in understanding the workers compensation process and help facilitate their return to work as quickly as possible. The sessions cover Workers Compensation in WA, the claims process, entitlements, injury management, returning to WorkCover, permanent impairment, disputes and settlements. The new partnership with WorkCover WA will see IFAP commence running these sessions on a regular basis on their behalf very soon. In the meantime, all enquiries should be directed to WorkCover WA on 9388 5550.

Currently IFAP are offering in-company information sessions on Workers Compensation. Organisations interested in this service should contact Garry Claxton at gclaxton@ifap.asn.au. Also in the pipeline are information sessions for Employers and training programs for Injury Management Co-ordinators available from IFAP. Further details will be available soon and enquiries can be directed to Wayne Brittan at IFAP on 9310 3760.

Safety2006 Keynote Confirmed

IFAP's 5th annual Safety Conference and exhibition is scheduled for 14 and 15 November this year.

Preparations are underway for the Safety2006 Conference and Exhibition, WA's leading safety and health event. Now in its fifth year, the Safety2006 Conference (previously known as SafetyWA) is recognised as a must-attend event by safety professionals from all industries. It features a unique format with a broad range of presentations focusing on practical workplace solutions.

IFAP is delighted to confirm the keynote presenter for this year's Safety2006 Conference as Professor Andrew Hopkins, who will give a presentation on each day of the conference. Professor Hopkins last presented at this conference three years ago and was very well received. Andrew is delighted to be coming to Perth once again to present some of his latest material.

This year's conference will be held at the Sheraton Perth Hotel allowing greater access to the conference and exhibition for OSH professionals in the CBD.

SPEAKERS

A number of speakers have already been locked in including Professor Hopkins. This year's conference will follow the same underlying theme of Practical Workplace Solutions with a primary focus on Risk Management and Corporate Social Responsibility. IFAP is calling for CEOs and Senior Management representatives who wish to present a paper in line with any of these themes. Please contact Arianne George at ageorge@ifap.asn.au if you are interested.

SPONSORSHIP

Excellent opportunities exist for organisations wishing to sponsor the Safety2006 Conference. A range of packages is available providing significant exposure and promotional opportunities. For more information on sponsorship, please contact Arianne George at ageorge@ifap.asn.au.

Member Discount for PD Seminar

The third seminar session in a series of six, currently scheduled across Australia throughout the year, is scheduled for 13 July.

The Dysfunctional Safety Leadership Team is the next topic in the series to be held on Thursday 13 July at the Mercure Perth Hotel.

This one-day seminar explores the fundamental causes of organisational safety politics and safety leadership team failure.

The Safety Solutions Group who are running the seminar, have identified a shortage of practical solutions for busy leaders who want to improve the dynamics and performance of their safety teams.

The program is designed for relatively rapid application in order to bring about meaningful, relevant change.

It offers specific, practical guidance for overcoming dysfunctions. Using tools, exercises, assessments and real-world examples, this seminar examines questions that all safety leadership teams must ask themselves, including:

- Are we really a safety leadership team?
- How are we currently performing?
- Are we prepared to invest the time and energy required to be a great team?

A discount of $50 applies to registrations received from IFAP Members. For a registration form, please log on to www.the-solutiongroup.com.au.
