Top Speakers Coming to Perth for Inaugural Conference

IFAP is bringing an impressive line-up of national and international speakers to Perth for what will be a unique and ground-breaking conference.

IFAP's International Crisis and Emergency Management Conference and Games scheduled for 1-3 June has received an overwhelming response for a first time event. Conference organisers, Vertical Events, said they have never seen a response like there has been for this conference so early in the preparations. Delegate registrations were already rolling in before a program or promotional brochure had even been released!

The bumper line-up of speakers already locked into a full and exciting program features a total of 17 presentations comprising a keynote speaker, three international speakers, three national speakers, a host of local speakers and a panel session hosted by Gerry Gannon.

An exhibition showcasing the latest products and services in the crisis and emergency services area will be held in conjunction with the two-day conference. Almost all of the booths have been sold with only a couple left up for grabs.

Three sponsors have already been secured with several sponsorship opportunities still available. Sponsors and supporting organisations will be in good company with CALM, ESRI and SAI Global already demonstrating their support for this unique industry event.

The one-day Emergency Response Games, to be held on Saturday 3 June, has attracted interest from overseas with two teams entered by the University of Singapore. Places are still available in this competition where emergency response teams will have the opportunity to test their skills in a range of practical exercises.

For more information on the International Crisis and Emergency Management Conference or the Emergency Response Games, please contact Rebecca Johnston on 9431 6276 or visit www.ifap.asn.au/about/safety_conferences_events.html.

PD Seminars Continue in Perth

The second seminar session in a series of six planned for the year is to be held in Perth on 1 June.

Designing, Creating and Delivering Educational and Entertaining Presentations is the theme of a seminar to be held on Thursday 1 June at the Mercure Hotel in Perth. Run by The Safety Solutions Group, this seminar session is designed to make safety presentations more effective and more interesting.

A discount of $50 per registration is available to IFAP Members. Further discounts apply to bookings of four or more people attending the same seminar or for a registration to attend four or more seminars by the same person. For a registration form or more information, please log on to www.thesolutiongroup.com.au.

This one-day seminar will provide participants with:

- the best presentation tips developed by The Safety Solutions Group for use by professional speakers and trainers; and
- a system of presentation design which has been refined over many years to deliver the balance between method and content.

Other seminars scheduled during the year include:

- The Dysfunctional Leadership Team
- Preventing disaster: Learning from Longford
- What are we to make of safe behaviour programs?

How to be More Involved in Safety

IFAP is delighted to announce that it is now an official partner of the RAC Community Safety Month and is urging Member organisations to participate.

The RAC Community Safety Month, held in October each year, is designed to provide a comprehensive showcase for safety issues throughout the State and provide plenty of practical advice for increasing safety in the community.

Co-ordinated by the Office of Crime Prevention in collaboration with a committee of key industry representatives (including IFAP), the month will aim to motivate as many organisations, schools, community groups and volunteers to focus on relevant safety issues by co-ordinating or participating in a host of safety-related events planned for the month. Officially kicking off with a launch parade at the Perth Royal Show on 1 October, the month is filled with a host of safety themed activities which are promoted on the official website and in a special feature in the West Australian.

Now in its 3rd year, the RAC Community Safety Month focusses on six key areas of safety:

- Crime Prevention
- Emergency Services
- Work Safety
- Road Safety
- Injury Prevention
- Water Safety

Organisations are strongly encouraged to take part in this important safety initiative by jointly co-ordinating activities in line with any of these key themes with IFAP or scheduling their own activities. An information session will be held for anyone wanting to find out more about this event and learn how easy it is to participate. It is scheduled for Wednesday 17 May at the City West Function Centre from 8.15am to 12 noon. To register your place at the free information session or to find out more about the RAC Community Safety Month, please log on to www.communitysafetymonth.wa.gov.au.

New Board Member

IFAP has appointed another industry representative to join its Board of Directors.

Mr Richard Mehan is the most recent addition to the IFAP Board, joining in May. Richard is the current Managing Director and CEO of Portman Limited, a position he has held for almost 8 years.
